

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

A TWO-DAY WORKSHOP IN PRATO, ITALY

26-27 JUNE, 2017

MONASH BUSINESS SCHOOL WILL BE HOSTING THE FIFTH ANNUAL MONASH BUSINESS AND SUSTAINABILITY NETWORK WORKSHOP ON SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT AT THE MONASH UNIVERSITY PRATO CENTRE (NEAR FLORENCE, ITALY) ON 26-27 JUNE 2017

Monash University is the Australia/Pacific regional hub of the UN Sustainable Development Solutions Network.

The goal of this workshop, building on previous successful workshops in Johannesburg, Kuala Lumpur and Prato, is to make research connections between academics at Monash Business School and international researchers and practitioners. It aims to stimulate new ideas, deepen existing research relationships, and explore further opportunities for mutually beneficial interaction and collaboration. The workshop will bring together a core group of Monash scholars across a range of academic disciplines in business and economics and a select group of researchers and practitioners from around the world.

The sessions will cover a broad spectrum of themes on major current issues and challenges in sustainable development and organisational sustainability. There will be plenary sessions on cross-cutting themes, including sessions on aspects of the global economy, climate change, and transforming business practices for sustainability.

Technical sessions will cover topics in business and management, banking and finance, environment and resources. They will include papers on topics such as social business and sustainable development, modelling and experimental approaches in the areas of resource management, environmental regulation, sustainable operations and supply chains, and organisational sustainability in turbulent operating environments.
